History

Dating back to the early 1900s, this building once housed the Colonial Theater and later became a drug store. Several families put their stamp on this general store over the years, with the Spor family purchasing it in 1981. Over the last thirty years, our family has continued to change this establishment to meet the needs of our customers. Our current renovations include a craft beer room which adds a unique twist to our old time general store feel. We encourage you to stop in our new beer room and enjoy all of the family charm that this store has to offer. Our warmest thanks to you for being part of our family history!

The Spor Family - Otto, Paula, Stephen, Becky, little Stephen and Hunter Spor.
