HISTORY

Dating back to the early 1900's this building has served as the Colonial Theatre and a drug store. Several families have put their stamp on this general store over the years. Our family has continued to change this establishment to meet the need of our customers. Our current renovations include a craft beer room, which adds a unique twist to our old time general store feel. On July 1, 2019 the next generation took over as Stephen and Becky Spor purchased the store from Otto and Paula. We encourage you to stop in our beer room, check out our ice cream counter and take in all the family charm this store has to offer.

Our warmest thanks for being part of our family history.

Steve, Becky, Stephen & Hunter Spor
